

Wesleyan Black Alumni Council Prize

($4,000 student scholarship for a summer experience grant)

In April 1986, the Wesleyan Black Alumni Council (WBAC) established a memorial fund to honor deceased alumni of African descent. The memorial honors the memory and spirit of Bruce D. Hall '77, James "Donnie" Rochester '74, and Dwight L. Greene '70. In its wisdom, the Council agreed that the most fitting honor of the spirit of deceased alumni was through a scholarship/summer experience grant to enrich and expand the education of students from underrepresented groups, or students interested in research pertaining to the African-American experience. The maximum stipend is $4,000.

Application: A student who wishes to apply for the Wesleyan Black Alumni Council Memorial Prize must submit a proposal that includes all of the following:

1. A personal statement that includes a discussion of the applicant's intellectual and academic interests and their relationship to the African American experience.
2. A description of the research plan that discusses the nature, scope and methodology that will be used to explore the problem/thesis/project.
3. An itemized budget that describes how the stipend will be used.
4. An unofficial academic history.

The application must be submitted as an email attachment (.doc, .docx, or .pdf format) by 11:59 p.m. on Friday, February 12th, 2016, to Class Dean Jennifer Wood (jpwood@wesleyan.edu). Potential applicants for the WBAC Memorial Prize are strongly encouraged to make an appointment to meet with Dean Wood to discuss their proposal ideas:
